Communities of Interest

Our global community is made up of Communities of Interest (COI) branches, societies, networks and student chapters in the mining industry. Join a COI to build your connections and grow your professional network.

Our COIs host regular local events as well as online webinars to up-skill mining professionals and provide networking opportunities with like-minded professionals. They have been operating for many years and work together in building a strong sense of community for those in the mining industry located in remote, regional and metropolitan areas.

With over 20 Branches located around the world, these groups support our members by creating fantastic networking opportunities and sharing knowledge at their face-to-face and online events. AusIMM Members gain discounted access to COI events.

Branches

AusIMM Branches provide a wide range of events and activities for members and other mining professionals in regional and metropolitan areas. AusIMM has over 20 Branches across Australasia.

Student Chapters

AusIMM Student Chapters offer future leaders the opportunity to engage and learn at our wide range of networking events and professional development sessions. Industry is encouraged to attend and network with students.

Networks

AusIMM Networks provide opportunities to connect, contribute and learn from other industry professionals in the mining industry beyond the core disciplines, New Professionals and Women in Mining.

Societies

AusIMM members who are considered leaders in their field represent their colleagues by advising AusIMM on how to create a stronger community and professional development opportunities specific to a mining discipline or area of expertise.
